

Inter arma silent Musae.

Rev. Rokoszny's homage to the great painter Józef Brandt

Summary

Rev. Józef Rokoszny, in the speech given during the funeral of Józef Brandt (1841– 1915), proves that the life of the artist was governed by three loves: to art, family and homeland – Poland. There was another love on the base of the three – the love to God which livened up all actions taken by the great national artist.