

Jowita Guja Faith is miracle – Karl Barth's interpretation of Romans 3:31-4:5

The article is a commentary to the excerpt of Karl Barth's Römerbrief concerning St. Paul's Romans 3:31-4:5. It is an attempt to uncover and interpret the most important threads of this text, namely, relation between God and man, human nature, Christology, the ideas of religion and faith. It focuses particularly on the problem of supernaturality of the faith, the paradoxical situation of man and the character of Abraham as „the knight of the faith”.
