Nieprawidłowe związki mężczyzny i kobiety jako problem społeczno-moralny i duszpasterski

Wrong Relationships of Man and Woman as a Social, Moral, and Pastoral Problem

Summary

The issue of improper connections of man and woman is still standing very current. With each passing year the number of so-called free and irregular relations is expanding. What's more, in media such models of behaviours which are adversely affecting marital fidelities are being promoted. Moreover the contemporary civilization is weakening traditional moral values, promotes the eroticism and it is a cause of many conflicts which are leading to the breakdown of the family, as well as to live as a couple in no formal relation. The Church cannot remain indifferent in that case of problem. Bringing to the Christ the ones who lost in the life and live in the state of the sin is his duty. Especially waking up the hope into the mercy God is important. For God it is never too late. There is no such complicated life, which he wouldn't be able to tidy up. However one should never forget the fundamental truth, that the life in accordance with the Christian faith isn't simple. Everyday taking the cross constitutes the integral part of the imitating the Christ. However this need to make an effort and to sacrifice is not finding understanding at many. It is against the current paths and against everything what the contemporary world is proposing.
