Ks. Tomasz Jelonek
The crisis also means the judgment.

Abstract

In the face of a great interest in the problem of crisis in a political, social and economic area it is important to focus on the fact that Greek text of the Holy Scriptures uses the word κρίσις for the God’s judgment. It is portrayed in the Bible with a variety of images and it is the reality that is still present in the history of mankind. A special attention is paid to the Final Judgment, one of the aspects of the Lord’s Day which will finish the history of salvation and manifest itself as parousia and epiphany. The article explains these two manifestations of Christ’s return and within epiphany it takes into consideration the Final Judgment which will be the manifestation of God’s justice in God’s whole economy of salvation.

Key words: crisis, court, the Final Judgement, the Lord’s Day, parousia, epiphany
