Tomasz Kornecki

Abstract:
Responsibility in a journalist’s work.

A journalist should always try to claim responsibility for his/her work. The present paper is an attempt to inspect their work in order to indicate at least some of the dimensions towards which a journalist should feel responsible. Analysis of a journalist’s responsibility seems to be essential at a time when the media are exerting bigger and bigger influence upon the contemporary man, very frequently replacing interpersonal relations, family relations included.

Key words: responsibility, media, journalism, journalist ethics, freedom